

January 26, 2025 Adoration Chapel

Hello my Jesus present body, blood, soul and divinity in the Blessed Sacrament. I love, adore, honor and praise You, my Lord, my God and my All. It is good to be here with You, Jesus! Thank You for this opportunity! Lord, thank You for the people who attended (name withheld) baby shower yesterday. I'm glad so many were able to attend. She has many needs, Lord. Triplets! Wow! What a blessing. I know she is somewhat apprehensive. Please comfort and reassure her, Lord. She loves and trusts You, yet I'm sure having 3 young small children already it must seem daunting. Thank You for this blessing in our family. I am grateful to You for this new life in each one. May they all be healthy, Lord. Give (name withheld) the strength and good health and a safe delivery for each baby. Lord, please guide and direct (name withheld). Help her to know what it is You want for her future. Be with her, Jesus as she faces uncertainty and give her the way forward. Bless her and protect her and her little one. I pray for conversion for all who are away from or outside the Church, especially for (names withheld). I pray for my aunts and uncles and their children and grandchildren that all will come into the One Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church. May we all be one Lord as You and Your Father are one. Lord, I bring each and every concern to You as You have requested we, Your children do and I give each one to You. All of my intentions, Lord I deliver to You for Your remedy. Guide, guard and direct my steps, my actions this week and may all that I do and say lead others closer to Your Sacred Heart. Protect anything that I say or do that is outside of Your Will from bringing any harm to others. May everything come from You and draw others to You, my Savior and Lord.

Jesus, please protect President Trump, his cabinet members and their families from all harm. Give each one the gifts of wisdom, prudence, temperance and self-control when making decisions and relating to others. Most of all, Jesus I pray for each one's full conversion and union with Your Holy Will. Thank You for this time in history. May we all make the most of these years, Jesus and do good in the lives of others by impacting our environments through the help and direction of the Holy Spirit. May all souls come to the knowledge and the love of God. My Jesus, I pray for healing and restoration for all who were impacted by the hurricanes and the fires. Help those who are still in need in North Carolina and those in the Los Angeles area. Such devastation, Lord. May it serve to bring us closer to You and may these beautiful, suffering people know the love and mercy of God by our outreach and support. Thank You for blessing our nation, Jesus. Help us to return to You (as a nation). Purify us, Oh Lord and please help us put an end to abortion and all forms of violence. Lord, it seems to me there is something stirring below the surface, or rather brewing. I don't know if this is just a feeling I have because our country's borders have been open for so long or if it's just due to hearing others talk. I put everything in Your hands, Lord and entrust the security of our nation to You. Guide, guard and direct us, my Jesus. So many lives are at stake. Lord, have You anything to say to me?

"Yes, My little one. There are many concerns on your heart. I am glad you confided them and entrusted them to Me. You must let go of each one, My child so there will be no fear or anxiety remaining in you. Fear is the absence of trust. I want your complete trust. When you trust Me completely, there will be no worries about these intentions. Empty yourself and ask Me to fill you instead with confidence and joy."

Yes, Lord. I want this, Jesus. Grant me also Your peace.

"It is yours for the asking. It is so for all of My children. You have not because you ask not, My children. So many graces go unrequested because My people have so little faith and trust in Me."

Please forgive us, Lord for our lack of trust. I want to trust You more fully. Help me, Lord. Increase my love for You. Increase my trust in You, Jesus.

"I am working in your heart, My child. Ask for My direction regarding what your role might be in providing information to others. I am referring to what I laid on your heart this morning. I will direct you My little lamb. Be not afraid. The medical supplies I instructed you to obtain years ago will be needed. Trust in Me. I will give you and My son (name withheld) the needed graces. I will do so for each and every child of Mine who asks. Pray for souls, My child. There are never too many prayers for souls in need."

“My child, My child you could never feel fully prepared for what is to come. No one can be. Yet, this is not what matters. What is of highest import is to pray, frequent the Sacraments, read Holy Scripture, fast and remain close to Me, your Jesus. When you are spiritually prepared, you will be more in tune with what will be asked of you at a moment’s notice. It is good to prepare materially but much more important to prepare spiritually. My children, go to the Sacrament of Reconciliation to cleanse your souls via the Sacrament of Mercy that I have given to My Church. Remain in a state of grace, My beloved children. This is the best defense against the evil one. Pray, pray, pray, My children. Keep your eyes on Me. I can do all things and I will give My little ones great strength. Pray for graces to love heroically. You must love even those you consider to be your adversaries, for in fact they are your brothers and sisters and I love their souls. I died for them also. If one of them presents themselves on your doorstep in need of assistance you must be prepared to welcome them as if they were your long lost beloved friend. This is what I am calling you to be. You will show My love to them no matter what has been in the past. Pray therefore, for the graces to love heroically and when this time comes, you will be given this special grace.”

“My child, My little lamb do you recall meeting the young man who worshipped evil?”

Yes, Lord. I even remember his name.

“My child, when you encountered him you greeted him with a smile and struck up a conversation with him. You followed the prompting of My Holy Spirit and with My help a connection was made. This was an experience of My power, My love and My mercy.”

Yes, Jesus!

“My daughter, what was your pre-disposition toward people who worship demons before meeting this person?”

Oh, Lord, You know me well. You know the answer but I will reply the best way I can. I would have remained as far away as possible. I don’t want anything to do with the dark side and demon worship. I have no desire to know about them. It is very easy for us poor, weak human beings to fall away from the Truth by dabbling in superstition or any kind of occult practice and I reject reading New Age books that are usually disguised as ‘self-help’ books. I would say, Jesus that even though I would have felt compassion for poor souls involved with evil spirits, I want nothing to do with them. I would sum it up by saying in the past it would ‘make my skin crawl’ just thinking about meeting someone like this, let alone having a dialogue with them.

“Yes, My child. You have answered well. Recall how the experience went. Remember the friendly exchange you so innocently initiated? Out of concern for this young man who was really just a child in so many ways, you asked him about the clothing on the floor around him. He told you these were all that he had after leaving his mother and stepfather due to an argument. You learned he was homeless and he was in the library for shelter during the cold, snowy weather. My child, you showed him great concern and compassion. You gained his trust (somewhat) enough that he shared with you the conflict in his family, the loss of friends due to traumatic accidents and drugs. When he mentioned having an issue trusting people, you asked him how he had been able to trust you, a complete stranger? It was then he informed you that the spirit with you smiled and winked at him and so he knew you were ‘okay’. This is when he described the beloved St. Padre Pio to you and you shared with him some information about St. Padre Pio and told him to do some research about the life of this great saint and mystic. My child, My child, when he said you ought to do the same for one of his dark spirits and tried to tell you some of their names, you shut him down immediately telling him you had no interest in even hearing their names. You said they are nothing compared to the great saints of the church and that they were no match for St. Padre Pio.”

I remember this, Jesus! I thought it was strange when he started smiling or perhaps smirking. At first, I thought he might be reflecting his attitude about what I said. I asked him about his expression. He said the moment I started talking about wanting nothing to do with 'them' they started shrieking very loudly. He found it amusing that I had gotten to them this way. It was then that I said, 'so there are evil spirits right here in the library?' And he told me, yes. He said, they like to be around especially in the children's section (where children's books are) and other places where they can tempt people. All of this dialogue with him didn't bother me in the least, Jesus. I had such peace with him and almost what I would call joy because I knew this was occurring because of Your intervention. You sent me there, Lord at just the right time, the right day to meet this poor soul whom You love so dearly. Lord, I don't know what became of him but I pray he has converted and has found You! I hope he found and met with an exorcist, Lord as suggested and that he is safely in the Ark of the Church. Please God, if this hasn't happened yet, I pray it will soon.

"My child, just as you received the graces needed to love him, one you thought you would never encounter, so too will you receive every grace needed during the refuge time and in the difficult times leading up to the refuge times. Be aware, My little lamb that events will unfold rapidly once they start. They have indeed already begun but they will eventually be closer to home so to speak. I tell you this so that you will use your time more wisely. Pray as I have asked and continue doing so with My son, (name withheld). Bring (name withheld) into this prayer time, lovingly inviting him. Let him know how very important his prayers are and how I need him, also. He will have an important role in these days as will many young people who are close to Me. (name withheld) and others like him have much to offer and I will use them as part of My Mother's holy army of great souls. My children, do not fear, but also do not be complacent. It is time to prepare the final tasks needed. You know what this means. I will give you the graces. All I ask is that you begin now so that you have a little time and are not in a position of regret. Trust in Me. Pray and act. All will be well. I love you and I am with you. With regard to My (name withheld), reassure her that any move she makes towards holiness, peace and a loving holy environment for her little one is My Will. I am with her. I see every struggle she faces. I understand each concern. Bring each concern and every decision to Me, My child. I will give you direction. Pray more, My child. Pray and meditate on the sorrows of My Most Holy Mother Mary. Ask her for guidance and insight. You will be given clarity, My child. Know that I love you. Your Guardian Angel and the Guardian Angel of your child prays for you. Ask St. Joan to intercede for you and to go before you. Ask her to share some of the graces I gave her for courage, wisdom, prudence and fortitude. All will be well. Pray, pray, pray and trust in Me. Remain in a state of grace. The condition of pure souls is a hedge of protection from evil. I am with you. Trust in Me.

This is all for now, My little one. Go in My peace. I bless you in the name of My Father, in My name and in the name of My Holy Spirit. I love you. All will be well."

Amen. Alleluia! I love You too, Jesus!
